THEOLOGY."

Marry the Competing Girls. to the Editor:

It is only within the past ten years that wom could be seen in the district south of street, and wages have decreased steadily since The steamship Seneca, of the New then. Ten years ago there were very few female clerks, copyists, cashiers, stenographers or amonu-enses employed as far north as Pourteenth street and only occasionally would a woman be seen Wall street. Since then they have appeared was taken to Erie Hasin.

If you are inviting an informal company do not neglect to inform every guest of the exact proportions of the affair. And do not change your plans afterwards, and make more of an affair of it. This is urged in the interests of those who go believing in the assurance that it is a "small and early," in simple dress, and find to their confusion that those better informed have thronged the rooms with elegant attire. This is not an agreeable experience, and it is thoughtless to subject friends to such needless annoyance.

Beat Biscuit for Teas. It is now possible to order of one's grocer fresh, snow-white beat biscuit. Nothing is more dainty to serve at teas and as something "new" they are a real sensation. They can be bought, put up in tins, like any other biscuit, and can be ordered fresh three times a veck. They can be heated up in the way they are an appetizing feature of ashionable tunches and teas.

business is all bosh when it comes to controll the habit for liquor.

Epithet and Etiquette. To the Editor: "Teddy" thinks that "Georgian" must be a "havered for fair," whatever that means. I presume it is some disparaging term used by him, but he is to be forgiven for this, as his term is not balf as vile as his epithet. "Teddy," remember that it is "the manners that make the gentleman," and no gentlexan occupies a seat in a public conveyance while a lady is standing. The miserably thin arguments evolved by the "women-heters" should, with your etiquette, be consigned to the darkness of oblivion without delay, as evil communications are liable to corrupt good manners. Yours. POLITELY.

Men Are So Strong. To the Editor: we frail girls have to cling to a strap for sup-

I see no one offer a seat, why I then offer mine?

But does a man then offer me his seat? Oh, no, he simply looks at me and turns his head away!

Are Rents Too High? To the Editor:
Why is it, with thousands of men out of employment, wages reduced and those who are working making one-half to three-fourths time, that our rents still remain at the top notch? Cannon some thing be done to lower our rents? Why do the handlords insist upon getting 20 per cent. return for their money? I notice that the rents are the first to go up and the last to come down. Lower rents would be a greater boom to the working people than all the charity yet given out in New York.
